CHARLES F. (Charlie) THOMAS Chairman of the Board, Houston Rockets

It's been just three years since Charlie Thomas purchased the Houston Rockets. But as the basketball team is in its fourth season under the Thomas flag, that's a longevity record for an owner since the franchise settled in Houston in 1972. The Maloof family of Albuquerque, N.M., from whom Thomas bought the club in the summer of 1982, had owned the team for three seasons, longest of a half dozen ownerships until now for 14 seasons.

The Thomas style of attracting a good management team and entrusting it with responsibility has seen the value of the franchise increase appreciably in the short time he has owned it. Thomas indicated from the start that he was interested in building a team over the long haul. When he elected not to match a huge Philadelphia offer for center Moses Malone, that started a building a program.

Thomas gave control of the basketball operation to President and General Manager Ray Patterson who in turn brought in a veteran and respected Head Coach in Bill Fitch. The remodeling was considerably speeded up by coin flips in 1983 and 1984 which made Rockets of 7-4 Ralph Sampson and 7-0 Akeem Olajuwon. Patterson and Fitch brought in players like Rodney McCray, Lewis Lloyd, Mitchell Wiggins and John Lucas without mortgaging the future. With all first round picks intact. Steve Harris of Tulsa was grabbed in the latest draft.

Attendance has risen dramatically since Thomas' first year as an owner when just under 7,500 attended a contest. That figure jumped to over 10,600 for the 1983-84 season. In the year past the club set an all-time franchise mark as more than 13,900 cheered on the learn with the 6th best won-lost record in the N.B.A.

A couple of other items blend in the making of Thomas' franchise as one of the tops in the league. A broadcast package is second to none in pro sports, with all games broadcast on KTRH Radio-740, all home games seen on Home Sports Entertainment Cable and all road games on KTXH TV-20. Additionally, Thomas last fall exercised an option in his rental agreement with the Summit whereby the Rockets would receive 49 percent of the profits of the Arena Operating Company which runs the building. Thus the team benefits not only from its own games but from all forms of entertainment at the Summit.

A Texan since 1956 when he joined an automobile agency in Corpus Christi, Thomas said he left the University of Tennessee after two years because he didn't have time to get a degree, that he had to earn a living. He purchased his first auto agency in 1967 and now owns 22 dealerships in the Southwest. Eventually he branched out into oil and gas exploration, ranching, insurance, real estate, television, hotels, a ski resort and a restaurant. He is Co-Chairman of BancTEXAS Group, Inc., Chairman of BancTEXAS Westheimer and a major shareholder in First Texas Savings. He was named "Mr. Sportsman" in 1982 by Interfaith Charitles, a joint effort of B'Nai B'rith and the Knights of Columbus.

Charlie and his wife, Kittsie, reside in River Oaks. They are the parents of three daughters, Kelly, Tracy Lee, and Robin, who wed Danny Klaes in June.

GARY BRADLEY Vice-Chairman of the Board, Houston Rockets

An Austin (Tx.) real estate developer, Gary Bradley, a self-confessed basketball fanatic, purchased a 20 percent interest in the Houston Rockets August 15, 1984. Charlie Thomas remains the team's majority shareholder and general partner with a 54 percent interest while the remaining 26 percent is shared by 30 limited partners. Both Thomas and Bradley are seen quite frequently at Rockets out of town games in addition to the home contests. Bradley, 37, is a native of Amherst, Tx., a town of 825 located 50 miles northwest of Lubbock. He has been an Austin resident the past 19 years since enrolling at the University of Texas where he received his degree in finance. Since graduation he has been involved in the Austin real estate market. Regarding his 1977 Rob Roy development, Texas Monthly (May, 1984) said: "Located in the hills overlooking a scenic bend in Lake Austin, Rob Roy is considered by many developers to be the seminal land deal in Austin real estate history — financially, environmentally, and politically."

RAY A. PATTERSON President and General Manager, Houston Rockets

Ray Patterson has been President and General Manager of the Houston Rockets for the past 13 seasons. But the 1985-86 season is a new experience for him. It marks the first time since he came to Houston in 1972 that he will be serving an owner who has been around for more than three years. Charlie Thomas, who purchased the club in the summer of 1982, is the seventh owner of the Houston Rockets but the first to enter a fourth season. For Patterson, the concerns of selling the club every other year is in the past and he is able to nourish long-range goals.

As an operating officer in the N.B.A., Patterson has put in 17 years, a term equaled by Jerry Colangelo at Phoenix and surpassed only by Red Auerbach's 33 years at Boston. Of those in the league when Patterson began with Milwaukee in 1968 and Colangelo at Phoenix the same year, only Richard Bloch of Phoenix, Franklin Mieuli of Golden State and Abe Pollin remain as owners, and just Dick Motta, Jack Ramsay and Gerie Shue as coaches.

Patterson has the distinction of being the only General Manager in the league's 39-year history to have had two different franchises in the World Championship series. His 1971 Milwaukee Bucks captured the title in the quickest leap, just three years from expansion to championship, in pro

One of the finest broadcast packages in professional sports is a result of Patterson's industriousness. All Rockels games are broadcast on KTRH Radio-740, with all home games on Home Sports Entertainment Cable while almost all road games are seen on KTXH TV-20. An agressive marketing package supplements the broadcast sponsorships,

Born in Lafayette, Ind., Patterson holds Bachelor and Masters degrees from the University of Wisconsin. He was team captain and Most Valuable Player his final two seasons. As a senior he was named center on the All-Big Ten team, edging out Arnie Risen of the conference champion Ohio State. Patterson played professional basketball for two seasons with the Flint, Mich. team in the old National Basketball League. He returned to his prep school, Wayland Academy in Beaver Dam, Wis. as basketball coach in 1949 and was named President and Headmaster of the school in 1954. He became the first President of the Milwaukee Bucks in 1968 and after four years in the position came to Houston as President and General Manager of the Rockets in May, 1972.

Ray and his wife, Ruth, live in Sugarland, Tx. They have five children, Pat, a graduate of Princeton; Steve and Liz both Texas grads, and Peggy and Pete, both presently at Texas. Steve, an attorney, is employed by the Rockets as counsel as well as being responsible for internal club operations.

BILL FITCH Head Coach, Houston Rockets

Bill Fitch took over a Houston Rockets club that finished last in the N.B.A. in 1983. His first Rocket edition improved by 15 wins but moved up to just the 20th best club in the league. Last season Fitch saw his team add on 19 more wins, 48-34, and jump all the way up to the sixth best record. And Fitch feels his club may be on the verge of being there when the elite teams of the league are assembled. He felt that even though last season was just the second year in a live year plan, his charges were coming closer to the fifth year expectations. He thought his team was not great, nor were they lousy, but somewhere in between, and that soon "we"ll be legitimately old enough to accomplish everything people say we're supposed to accomplish. We're winning because we're playing together and compensating for our weaknesses. We're now looking for better guard play and then we have to develop the depth of a championship leam. That's when we'll be as good as people think we are."

Fitch knows a great deal about the qualities which comprise the make-up of a winning team. He has been a head coach on the professional and collegiate level for 27 years, the last 15 in the N.B.A. During 12 seasons as a college coach.— at his Alma Mater, Coe College in lowa, at North Dakota, at Bowling Green and at Minnesota.— he had only two losing seasons. He has experienced just seven losing N.B.A. campaigns, only two in the last ten

His first stop in the pro ranks was in Cleveland, where he put together the Cavaliers expansion team and ended up taking them to the playoffs three times, including a 49-33 mark in 1975-76 which stands as the top record in club history and which earned him Coach of the Year honors. Among the fine players he helped develop with the Cavs were Austin Catr. Bingo Smith. Campy Russell. Jim Chones. John Johnson, Jim Brewer and Jim Cleamons.

After nine years with Cleveland. Fitch took on an even bigger challenge under the championship banners of the Boston Garden. The Cellics were coming off a 29-win season, their poorest mark in three decades. All Fitch did was guide the Celtics to 61 wins, a 32-game turn-around which resulted in his being named Coach of the Year, the first coach to have won that award twice. That was the first of three straight 60 win campaigns, the 186-60 record the second best three years in N.B.A. history, behind only Milwaukee's 189-57 mark in 1970-73. His final Celtics club went 56-26, the third best mark in the N.B.A. Fitch was the first pro-coach for Celtics such as Larry Bird. Kevin McHale and Darny Ainge.

The sixth winningest coach in N.B.A. history, his 623 victories is exceeded only by Red Auerbach, 938, Jack Ramsay, 745, Gene Shue, 725, Dick Motta, 709, and Red Holzman, 696. Fitch's 600th N.B.A. win was a 97-93 decision over the New Jersey Nets at The Summit on January 28, 1985.

Born at Davenport, Iowa, Bill grew up in Cedar Rapids where he attended high school and Coe College. His college coaching career began as an assistant in both baseball and basketball at Creighton University in Omaha. Neb., where he earned a Masters degree in educational psychology. He returned to Coe as basketball coach and after four years there moved on to five years at North Dakota where he twice made the NCAA Division II Final Four. In his only season at Bowling Green he won a Mid-American Conference title and then concluded his college coaching career, with two years at Minnesota.

CARROLL DAWSON Assistant Coach, Houston Rockets

It's been a long climb from Alba, Texas (population 200) to the very pinnacle of his profession but it appears that Houston Rockets assistant coach Carroll Dawson was headed this direction from the start. As a 6-5 center he led his high school to an incredible 44-3 record as a senior. He then went on to win Junior College All-American honors at Paris, Texas under Head Coach Boyd Converse. Completing college with two years at Baylor under Head Coach Bill Henderson, he led the Bears in both scoring and rebounding for two years, 13.3 points and 7.3 rebounds as a junior. 16.4 points and 8.8 rebounds as a senior when he won All-Southwest Conference honors in 1960. Three years later he returned to Baylor as an assistant to Head Coach Bill Menefee. He succeeded Menefee as head coach in 1973 and remained for 31/2 seasons. Dallas Cowboy executive Gil Brandt hired Dawson as a scout for the football team but a year later he entered the business world as a salesman for the Converse Shoe Company. When Scotty Robertson left the Rockets to become the head coach of the Detroit Pistons in 1980, Rockets Head Coach Del Harris tabbed Dawson as his top aide. After three years under Harrls, Dawson was retained by new head man Bill Fitch and now is in his third year with the former Cleveland and Boston coach. A bachelor, Dawson resides in Houston and rates golf as his main hobby

RUDY TOMJANOVICH Assistant Coach, Houston Rockets

The first Houston Rocket to have his number (45) retired, Rudy Tomianovich is in his third season as an assistant to Head Coach Bill Fitch. Rudy had scouted for the team for two years following his 1981 retirement as an active player. He spent his entire 11-year career with the Rockets. franchise, one year in San Diego and ten in Houston. He was the second player taken in the 1970 college draft, behind Bob Lanier of St. Bonaventure who was taken by Detroit. Rudy finished his career with 13,382 points, second only to Calvin Murphy on the Rockets list, and with 6.198 rebounds, trailing only teammates Elvin Hayes and Moses Malone. He averaged 17.4 points for his 768 regular season games, four times scoring better than 20 points per game including his best season, 24.5, in 1973-74. His career shooting percentages were .501 from the field and .784 from the free throw line. Five times he was selected to play in the N.B.A. All-Star Game, earning a starting spot in the 1979 classic at Pontiac, Mich. when he came back to average 19.0 points in 78-79 after being sidelined by a tragic courtside incident in December, 1977. He was a fixture at a starting forward position for the Rockets first nine seasons in Houston and four times led the team in scoring, once in rebounding, and five times in field goal percentage. A native of Hamtramck, Mich., he went on to become the all-time rebounding leader, 1,089, and third highest scorer, 1,808, behind Mike McGee and Cazzie Russell, in University of Michigan history. His coach there was Johnny Orr. Since 1974 the school has honored him by naming its Most improved Player award for him. Rudy and his wife, Sophie, reside in Southwest Houston with daughters Nicole, 12, and Melissa, 9, and son, Rudy III, 3.

DICK VANDERVOORT Trainer, Houston Rockets

The amount of tape he has used on player's ankles would probably stretch across Texas from Beaumont to El Paso, but that's just part of the job for Dick Vandervoort. He has been the only trainer and traveling secretary the team has had since it set up operations in Houston in 1971. In 1984 he logged his 1,000th regular season game and that year also marked his selection as Trainer of the Year voted by the National Basketball Trainers Association, a group he now represents as Chairman. During his 14 seasons with the Rockets, he has never missed 1,206 regular season and 58 playoff contests. Only Joe O'Toole of Atlanta, Dick D'Oliva of Golden State, Al Domenico, Philadelphia and Joe Proski, Phoenix, have been with their teams for a longer term. Prior to joining the Rockets Dick was head trainer at Washington State University for 11 seasons. One of his athletes there was Houston Oiler Head Coach Hugh Campbell while a student assistant was present San Antonio Spurs trainer John Andersen. A native of Concordia, Kansas, Dick is a 1958 graduate of the University of Kansas. The father of sons Mark, 22, and Todd, 20, he and his wife. Concetta, reside in Northwest Houston.

ROCKETS RADIO-TELEVISION-CABLE

GENE PETERSON

BILL WORRELL

The Houston Rockets enjoy one of the most complete broadcasting packages in all of professional sports. All games are broadcast on KTRH Radio-740, while all road games will be simulcast with KTXH TV-20, and all home games will be on cable via Home Sports Entertainment. As part of the N.B.A. television package, the Rockets will make two appearances on CBS and will be seen eight times on WTBS.

Heading up the Rockets broadcast crew is veteran N.B.A. voice Gene Peterson. The play-by-play man for the Rockets in his 11th season with the club and will continue in that role for all the road simulcasts and all the home radio broadcasts. He has broadcast 820 regular season and 50 playoff games without a miss over his 10 years with the club. A native of Albert Lea, Minn., Peterson studied at the Brown Institute in Minneapolis, Following Air Force duty, he began his radio career at WECL in Eau Claire, Wis. He also worked at KOB, Albuquerque, N.M., KCMO, Kansas City, Mo., and at KPRC in Houston before joining the Rockets. Gene and his wife, Marsha, reside in Kingwood with sons Todd, 22, and Paul, 13, and daughter Jennifer, 19.

Joining Peterson as the color commentator for the radio-tv road game simulcasts will be veteran Houston sportscaster Bill Worrell, Worrell, presently Sports Director of Home Sports Entertainment, has previous experience on Rockets telecasts and has covered a host of major sporting events since starting his career at KPRC TV here in 1970. A native Houstonian, he is a graduate of the University of Houston which he attended on a baseball scholarship. When the Rockets are at home, Worrell will handle the play-by-play for the Home Sports Entertainment telecasts. Rockets Director of Public Relations Jim Foley will join Peterson for the KTRH-740 Radio home game broadcasts white former N.B.A. performer McCoy McLemore teams with Worrell on the cablecasts.
